Minutes of the February 18, 2025, meeting
Via Zoom

Members Present: Hayden Arnoldi, Maggie Beeber, James Berry, Chad Johnson, Daniel Keymer, Karla Landwer (non-voting), Justin Lechleiter (non-voting), Laurie Petri, Jonelle Przybylski, Libby Raymond (non-voting), Tonya Veith

Absent (excused): Neil Prendergast, Xiong Phalisa

Visitors: John Gaffney, Vera Klekovkina, Marv Noltze, Dave Snyder

The meeting was called to order at 3:01 p.m.

Announcements: Maggie Beeber announced that Karla Landwer and Breanna Cychosz will be serving as co-teaching licensure officers

This is the last semester James Berry will serve as Curriculum Committee chair. He encouraged current members to consider chairing next semester

The minutes from December 3, 2024, were approved as submitted by consensus.

Consent Agenda:

The following actions were approved unanimously (6-0-0)

Revised: German 313, 3 crs., Developing Speaking Proficiency (description)
German 314, 3 crs., Developing Writing Proficiency (description)
German 315, 3 crs., Developing Reading Proficiency (description)
German 355, 3 crs., German for the Professions (description, prerequisite)

Revised: Chemistry 260, 4 crs., Elementary Biochemistry (prerequisite)

Information Items: From the Office of the Registrar, for the Department of Sociology and Social Work:

A. While updating the Typically Offered Values, we found a few courses that are not in the catalog but are still active in accesSPoint. I believe all of these courses were once on the "Latent Course List" which was a thing of the past that sort of categorized courses that hadn't been offered in a long time. Once they were on the Latent Course List, they were at some point scheduled/slated for deletion. I believe these three courses should be deleted, as they were offered the following terms last:

ANTH 200 – Never offered at all

ANTH 336 – Last offered the Spring term of 1973

ANTH 337 – Last offered the Spring term of 1978

These courses were erroneously left undeleted in accesSPoint but were deleted a long time ago from the catalog.

B. From the Registrar's Office, for the Department of History and International Studies:

Some years ago, we "fixed" all the courses that were marked as repeatable but didn't have standard language on them. HIST 495 must have been one we missed. We updated the course accordingly on the back end and added the following standard language to the course description to accurately account for the department's intention: "May be repeated for credit for up to 6 credits."

Teacher Licensure Office Report (Maggie Beeber/Karla Landwer): Annual review is in April. They should get report out this week.

Old Business: None

New Business:

The following action was approved unanimously (6-0-0)

Approved: Revisions to Special Education Certificate

The following actions were approved (5-0-2)

Motion: Motion (Keymer/Beeber) that anything on the Curriculum Committee's consent agenda should go to the provost as an informational item (I) as opposed to an item needing approval (A). Therefore, motion to amend the UWSP Academic Approval Chart, columns titled "Change in course prerequisite or concurrent registration", "Change in credit for an existing course", "Deactivate/suspend a course", and "Change in course title (no significant content change)" from an "A" to an "I" within the "Provost" column

Motion to amend approved 5-0-2

Approved: Updated Academic Approval Chart (approved with above amendment)

The meeting adjourned at 3:28 p.m.

NEXT MEETING: March 4, 2025

AGENDA: TBD

Rationale and need for this course (including any assessment evidence):
Making GERM 313 repeatable three times will allow our German faculty to teach the same course with different subtitles each academic year, offering variety within a 3-year period, which is usually needed for the same cohort of students. This enables students to retake core German courses to continually develop their proficiency, as language skills require time to master. It will increase student contact with our German faculty and eliminate the need to offer additional courses, which their current workloads do not permit. This setup still permits German Majors and Minors to meet all the program learning outcomes (PLOs). Additionally, this change will offer more options to off-campus students who might take this course as part of the Collaborative Language Program (CLP)'s offerings.

Rationale and need for this course (including any assessment evidence):
Making GERM 313 repeatable three times will allow our German faculty to teach the same course with different subtitles each academic year, offering variety within a 3-year period, which is usually needed for the same cohort of students. This enables students to retake core German courses to continually develop their proficiency, as language skills require time to master. It will increase student contact with our German faculty and eliminate the need to offer additional courses, which their current workloads do not permit. This setup still permits German Majors and Minors to meet all the program learning outcomes (PLOs). Additionally, this change will offer more options to off-campus students who might take this course as part of the Collaborative Language Program (CLP)'s offerings.

Subject: Changes to CHEM 260 prerequisites

Hi Julia,

We are voting this week on a proposed change to the prerequisites for CHEM 260 (Elementary Biochemistry). The prerequisite would change from CHEM 222 or CHEM 326 to CHEM 222 or CHEM 325, making the course accessible to any student who has completed one semester of organic chemistry. The change should not have a direct impact on MLS or Dietetics students, the principal consumers of this course, as both majors require CHEM 221/222, but the change will provide some flexibility for transfer students and others who have completed one semester of organic chemistry.

Please let me know if you or your faculty and staff have any comments, questions, or concerns regarding this change.

Best regards,

Dave

Subject: ANTH courses

Hi Amy!

While updating the Typically Offered Values, we found a few courses that are not in the catalog, but are still active in accesSPoint. I believe all of these courses were once on the "Latent Course List" which was a thing of the past that sort of categorized courses that hadn't been offered in a long time. Once they were on the Latent Course List, they were at some point scheduled/slated for deletion.

I believe these three courses should be deleted from the Catalog, as they were offered the following terms last:

ANTH 200 – never offered at all

ANTH 336 – Last Offered the Spring term of 1973

ANTH 337 – Last Offered the Spring term of 1978

I believe these courses were erroneously left undeleted in accesSPoint but were deleted a long time ago from the catalog.

You do not need to fill out any paperwork if you agree with my assessment—I will send an informational item to CuC on your behalf as these courses have been absent from the catalog for some time and this is a cleanup step.

Have a great weekend! Thanks!

Hi James,

Megan noticed a repeat issue on a course, and we have updated the course accordingly.

Some years ago, we “fixed” all the courses that were marked as repeatable but didn’t have standard language on them. Alas, HIST 495 must have been one we missed. We updated the course accordingly on the back end and added the following standard language to the course description to accurately account for the department’s intention: “May be repeated for credit for up to 6 credits.” Brett Barker was included in the emails and agreed with this approach. As this was a clean up item, please include this as informational in an upcoming agenda.

Thanks!

¹ Degree program here is defined as an academic program resulting in the awarding of a degree credential (e.g., B.S. in Psychology, M.S. in Natural Resources, etc.). At the baccalaureate level, degree program is equivalent to what is colloquially termed a “major”. In this approval chart, the term degree program is used to include both undergraduate and graduate degree programs.

² UoW here refers to the Universities of Wisconsin Office of Academic Affairs.

³ CuC refers to Curriculum Committee; GC refers to Graduate Council; GEC refers to General Education Committee.

⁴ CC refers to Common Council and EC refers to Executive Committee of the Common Council.

⁵ BOR here refers to the Board of Regents of the University of Wisconsin System.

⁶ In the current procedure, the chancellor “notes” curriculum at the end of the governance process. Consequently, processing of curricular changes in the student information system and catalog does not start until chancellor’s notification has been received in the Office of the Registrar (via Common Council resolution). In the future procedure (with Coursedog), entities with steps denoted as “I” (Information Only) will receive notification, but the curriculum proposal will continue to the next required approval or review step in the process.

⁸ Creation of new subject prefixes is governed by the subject prefix policy.

⁹ Based on assessment results or other criteria, the General Education Committee (GEC) may remove a GEP designation from a course irrespective of department initiation or consent.

Rationale and need for this course (including any assessment evidence):
Course name change: The current course name does not accurately reflect the focus of the course focus, even as stated in the current description. Moreover, a less geographically- and culturally-limited title better reflects more recent scholarship on community. Course description change: The new, more detailed course description is intended to provide students with more information about the course and to situate the course within this subfield of sociology. Pre-req change: Because this course carries a GEP designation, the existing prerequisites for this course should be removed. The course is also structured in a way that students in any discipline can take this course. Credit change: We propose moving to a more standard and consistent 3-credit offering (only). The history and rationale for the current "2-3 credit" range are unknown to our department. And none of the supported programs require that the course be offered at 2 credits. To avoid confusion, we propose limiting the course to 3 credits.

Hi Amy,

I did a catalog search for references to SOC 300 or 500 and found the attached. Basically, the credit change will not impact any other departments (or even your own as far as overall credit counts go).

You will want to contact the GEC to give them a heads up that the credit count for SOC 300 is changing since it is a GEP course, but that is it.

Of course, the Office of the Registrar needs to be notified too, so I copied them in.

Please be sure to include this email with your proposal to revise SOC 300/500.

Greetings Libby,

We are proposing a change to SOC 300/500. It is currently listed in the Catalog as being available for 2 or 3 credits. Since we are already making some other changes to the course, we thought we would clean up that aspect, since we will never offer it for 2 credits. Do we need to get comment/feedback from other affected departments for this?

Best wishes,

Electronic Record and Signature Disclosure

ELECTRONIC RECORD AND SIGNATURE DISCLOSURE

From time to time, UW-Stevens Point (we, us or Company) may be required by law to provide to you certain written notices or disclosures. Described below are the terms and conditions for providing to you such notices and disclosures electronically through the DocuSign system. Please read the information below carefully and thoroughly, and if you can access this information electronically to your satisfaction and agree to this Electronic Record and Signature Disclosure (ERSD), please confirm your agreement by selecting the check-box next to 'I agree to use electronic records and signatures' before clicking 'CONTINUE' within the DocuSign system.

Getting paper copies

At any time, you may request from us a paper copy of any record provided or made available electronically to you by us. You will have the ability to download and print documents we send to you through the DocuSign system during and immediately after the signing session and, if you elect to create a DocuSign account, you may access the documents for a limited period of time (usually 30 days) after such documents are first sent to you. After such time, if you wish for us to send you paper copies of any such documents from our office to you, you will be charged a $0.00 per-page fee. You may request delivery of such paper copies from us by following the procedure described below.

Withdrawing your consent

If you decide to receive notices and disclosures from us electronically, you may at any time change your mind and tell us that thereafter you want to receive required notices and disclosures only in paper format. How you must inform us of your decision to receive future notices and disclosure in paper format and withdraw your consent to receive notices and disclosures electronically is described below.

Consequences of changing your mind

If you elect to receive required notices and disclosures only in paper format, it will slow the speed at which we can complete certain steps in transactions with you and delivering services to you because we will need first to send the required notices or disclosures to you in paper format, and then wait until we receive back from you your acknowledgment of your receipt of such paper notices or disclosures. Further, you will no longer be able to use the DocuSign system to receive required notices and consents electronically from us or to sign electronically documents from us.

All notices and disclosures will be sent to you electronically

Unless you tell us otherwise in accordance with the procedures described herein, we will provide electronically to you through the DocuSign system all required notices, disclosures, authorizations, acknowledgements, and other documents that are required to be provided or made available to you during the course of our relationship with you. To reduce the chance of you inadvertently not receiving any notice or disclosure, we prefer to provide all of the required notices and disclosures to you by the same method and to the same address that you have given us. Thus, you can receive all the disclosures and notices electronically or in paper format through the paper mail delivery system. If you do not agree with this process, please let us know as described below. Please also see the paragraph immediately above that describes the consequences of your electing not to receive delivery of the notices and disclosures electronically from us.

How to contact UW-Stevens Point:

You may contact us to let us know of your changes as to how we may contact you electronically, to request paper copies of certain information from us, and to withdraw your prior consent to receive notices and disclosures electronically as follows:

To advise UW-Stevens Point of your new email address

To let us know of a change in your email address where we should send notices and disclosures electronically to you, you must send an email message to us at purchasing@uwsp.edu and in the body of such request you must state: your previous email address, your new email address. We do not require any other information from you to change your email address.

If you created a DocuSign account, you may update it with your new email address through your account preferences.

To request paper copies from UW-Stevens Point

To request delivery from us of paper copies of the notices and disclosures previously provided by us to you electronically, you must send us an email to jessica.potter@wisconsin.gov and in the body of such request you must state your email address, full name, mailing address, and telephone number. We will bill you for any fees at that time, if any.

To withdraw your consent with UW-Stevens Point

To inform us that you no longer wish to receive future notices and disclosures in electronic format you may:

i. decline to sign a document from within your signing session, and on the subsequent page, select the check-box indicating you wish to withdraw your consent, or you may;

ii. send us an email to dan.kramarz@wisconsin.gov and in the body of such request you must state your email, full name, mailing address, and telephone number. We do not need any other information from you to withdraw consent.. The consequences of your withdrawing consent for online documents will be that transactions may take a longer time to process..

Required hardware and software

The minimum system requirements for using the DocuSign system may change over time. The current system requirements are found here: <https://support.docusign.com/guides/signer-guide-signing-system-requirements>.

Acknowledging your access and consent to receive and sign documents electronically

To confirm to us that you can access this information electronically, which will be similar to other electronic notices and disclosures that we will provide to you, please confirm that you have read this ERSD, and (i) that you are able to print on paper or electronically save this ERSD for your future reference and access; or (ii) that you are able to email this ERSD to an email address where you will be able to print on paper or save it for your future reference and access. Further, if you consent to receiving notices and disclosures exclusively in electronic format as described herein, then select the check-box next to ‘I agree to use electronic records and signatures’ before clicking ‘CONTINUE’ within the DocuSign system.

By selecting the check-box next to ‘I agree to use electronic records and signatures’, you confirm that:

- You can access and read this Electronic Record and Signature Disclosure; and
- You can print on paper this Electronic Record and Signature Disclosure, or save or send this Electronic Record and Disclosure to a location where you can print it, for future reference and access; and
- Until or unless you notify UW-Stevens Point as described above, you consent to receive exclusively through electronic means all notices, disclosures, authorizations, acknowledgements, and other documents that are required to be provided or made available to you by UW-Stevens Point during the course of your relationship with UW-Stevens Point.

SACRED AND SOCIETY
SOC 375, SECTION 1

Department of Sociology and Social Work
University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point

Instructor: David Barry, PhD

COURSE DESCRIPTION AND OBJECTIVES

This course delves into the ways sacred beliefs, rituals, and institutions shape and are shaped by society. We will examine the social dimensions of a variety of sacred formations including: religion/spirituality, nature/environment, fandom, art and artworlds, and others. Furthermore, this course will apply comparative methodologies in order to assess cross-cultural and global characteristics in form.

Course Learning Outcomes

1. Describe and recall major concepts and methods used by social scientists, across multiple disciplines, to investigate the sacred/profane in society.
2. Apply major ideas and theories to real-world problems related to a variety of sacred formations in society today.
3. Develop sociological and global perspectives that can help identify how individuals and groups are influenced by sacred formations as social forces (e.g., institutions, cultural norms, political economies, etc.).

GEP Global Awareness Learning Outcomes

1. Identify the key components found within one or more cultures that are distinct from those found in predominantly English-speaking cultures
2. Analyze key forces or processes that contribute to global interconnectedness, and their implications.

3. Demonstrate curiosity and empathetic insight about diverse cultural perspectives.

REQUIRED TEXT

- (1) Sociology of the Sacred (2024), by Philip A Mellor and Chris Shilling. Sage Publishing.
- (2) Supplementary material will be provided throughout the semester

COURSE FORMAT AND EXPECTATIONS

Format

The format of each class is different from a conventional college-level sociology course. Since the main objective of the seminar is to provide a safe platform to discuss the internship experience and overall professional development, the seminar format is centered exclusively on these goals. The seminars are relatively small, so expect lots of conversation and hands-on activities.

Note on Online/Asynchronous learning: Due to the unique nature of this instructional modality, this course will have a semi-structured feel. New content will be posted each week, leaving the consumption of that material up to the student. It is vital that you do not get behind from week to week for obvious reasons. Assignments will continue to have hard deadlines, just like a ‘normal’ semester.

Academic Integrity

To ensure that the highest level of academic and personal integrity is upheld, it is important that you understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at UWSP (see Academic Integrity: A Guide for Students). For a complete overview of UWSP academic standards and disciplinary procedures, please visit: the following website: <http://www.uwsp.edu/dos/Pages/Academic-Misconduct.aspx>

Disability Services

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal law requiring educational institutions to provide reasonable accommodations for students with disabilities. For more information about UWSP’s policies. Any student who feels that an accommodation may be needed based on the impact of a disability should contact Disability Services and Assistive Technology at 715-346-3365 in Room 609 Learning Resource Center at 900 Reserve Street. Staff will work to coordinate reasonable accommodations for students with documented disabilities.

Technology Policy

My expectations regarding technology are simple and, hopefully, not unrealistic. I do not expect students to be without their phones, tablets, and/or computers. I completely understand that the schedule for most students may even necessitate this. In fact, our class will even utilize this as a resource at times during the semester; for instance, in-class activities that prompt students to do a quick search online. I also understand that some students prefer to take notes electronically, on a tablet or laptop. (Be warned: research shows that students retain more information when notes are hand-written.) But, unless specified otherwise or a circumstantial agreement with me is made, phones should be silent (e.g., airplane mode), and out of sight. As soon as a device becomes a distraction to the class, I will revoke technology privileges all together.

Assignment Submission and Late Policy

All assignments (unless specified otherwise) should be submitted by the respective deadline electronically via Dropbox on Canvas. Turnitin (originality checking software) is activated with results viewable to you and me. Please use this as a tool for writing. Late work is accepted up to one week after the specified deadline (5-point reduction), also via the appropriate Canvas folder. I will not accept assignments after this.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS AND EVALUATION

Weekly Discussion Board

Weekly Discussion Posts are critical dialogues covering some aspect from the previous week and organized in a popular online format. This will allow your fellow students to comment/discuss in a productive and respectful manner. This interactive approach is vital for working through new material. The specific requirements and directions will be discussed in class.

10/12 Weekly Discussion Posts (10 points each) = 100 points

Unit Papers

Unit Papers are organized arguments that discuss a specific topic or problem regarding sacred formations in society. The specific requirements and expectations for these papers will be discussed in class. In general, these are assignments that allow you to apply what we have discussed in class, reflect on these conversations and readings, and critique and analyze. These papers will require a limited degree of research, which will help prepare you for the final paper.

3 Unit Papers (50 points each) = 150 points

Total = 150 points

Final Project

This is a more extensive research assignment that is due at the end of the semester. Overall, this is an opportunity for you to focus on some aspect of sacred in society. This project will utilize comparative methodologies to assess global, cross-cultural implications. In addition, this includes a brief, in-class presentation.

Requirements for this assignment will be discussed in greater detail in class.

Research Project = 100

Attendance/Participation

Attendance is crucial to succeed in this class. Keeping up on your reading in order to actively participate in class will ensure that you are adequately prepared for the assignments. My teaching philosophy is based on a cultivation of active learning. This means that I aim to provide an environment whereby students are able to ‘experience’ the material. However, this is a dual relationship. Students must also be willing to learn in order to make this happen. By being in class regularly (not just present), an active and invigorating culture of learning can be developed. Attendance and Participation will be recorded via in-class activities and quizzes. This being said, life is always full of unexpected events and emergencies. If you think you will miss a class, please let me know as soon as possible so we can make other arrangements.

Attendance = 30

Participation = 20

Total = 50 points

Evaluation

Evaluation of this course is based on the standard UWSP grading scale.

Course Rationale Please explain the rationale for including this course in the GEP. Address the following questions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Has the Associate Dean of General Education and Honors and/or the GEC representative(s) for this category been consulted to see if there is a need for additional courses in this category? ▪ Is there a similar General Education course on campus that already exists? ▪ How does the course align with the new Strategic Plan (link)?

▪ How does the pedagogical approach support the proposed enrollment number?
Course Rationale: (see above)	The "Sacred and Society" course is well-suited for a Global Awareness designation due to its comprehensive examination of the intersection between sacred beliefs and social structures across diverse cultures and societies. Here are key reasons why this course aligns with the principles of the GEP. First, no other course in the GEP, or generally thereof, tackles sacred-making and sacred formations in society from a sociological approach and one that utilizes an updated methodology to understand such topics. In short, the realities of sacred meaning-making, spaces, identities, and behavior go beyond institutionalized religion/spirituality, as traditionally studied. As the landscape shifts and evolves around what is and is not sacred, the respective study must too. This course reflects those changes as directed in sociology specifically today, but certainly carries multi-disciplinary connections as well. Second, the course draws connections with the new strategic plan as well. Specifically, the nuanced and comprehensive approach toward studying sacred formations provides a culturally-inclusive approach toward defining, understanding, and examining what sacred means to individuals across many different groups. This resonates specifically with Theme Three, which establishes the promise to 'build and enhance a community that values inclusion, equity, and diversity.'

Course Learning Outcomes:	Course Learning Outcomes <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Describe and recall major concepts and methods used by social scientists, across multiple disciplines, to investigate the sacred/profane in society. 2. ---	---

Student Learning Assessment: Explain how student learning assessments will measure attainment of each of the GEP category learning outcomes:	Potential student learning assessment would include the following components in order to adequately measure attainment of the Global Awareness designation. The sample assignment included in this application serves as a draft example that requires students to produce content for all three GA LOs. The sample course project is a culmination of comparative methodologies and theory learned during the semester on identifying, examining component characteristics, and evaluating different sacred formations in society. This assignment requires students to compare across multiple cultural/regional contexts (GA LO1) beyond the US. Second, and as a result, discussion of the ways different cultural contexts diverge and converge is presented (GA LO2). Finally, or perhaps initially, the project is student-driven. Meaning, the particular interest and connection to the topic chosen is a result of student curiosity and investment of the project (GA LO3).
High Impact Practices: Discuss how the course incorporates high impact teaching practice(s) in attainment of the GEP category learning outcomes. For more information, see AAC&U and this summary table.	Using the sample assignment provided as an example, this course will meet several high impact teaching practices, including: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Common Intellectual Experiences. As detailed above, this courses rests heavily on the study and exploration of capturing sacred-formations across diverse groups and communities. In doing so, this course meets the general themes of enhancing equity, diversity and inclusion, values buttressed across our university programming and curricula, including our strategic plan. 2. Diversity/global learning. In addition to themes related to diversity, this course enhances development of global perspective through instruction in comparative theory and methodologies. 3. Finally, other aspects of the course include writing-based assignments and research-based projects, which also meet established high impact teaching practices.
Example Assignment: (describe or attach)	Sample Assignment: Sacred and Society (SOC375) Assignment Title: Comparative Analysis of Sacred Practices Objective: To explore, compare, and analyze the practices of one sacred-formation across two country/regions, focusing on their rituals, symbols, and social functions within their respective communities. Instructions:

Consider the examples of sacred formations discussed in class so far. What manifestation do you find most interesting or are most curious to think more about? Let this personal curiosity drive the decision making for this project.

1. Select One Sacred-Form: Choose from the course topic categories, a specific example of a sacred form.
 - Religion/spirituality
 - Nature/environment
 - Fandom
 - Art or artworld
2. Select Two Country/Regions: Select two different cultural contexts or communities. This can be at whatever scale seems appropriate.
3. Research and Observation:
 - Conduct research on the selected sacred form, focusing on rituals, symbols, and social functions. Use academic sources, such as books, journal articles, and credible websites.
 - If possible, observe a service, ritual, or practice of the sacred form. This can be done by visiting a place of worship, attending an athletic event, or watching documentaries.
4. Analysis:
 - Compare the two country/regions in terms of their key rituals and symbols. Describe the significance of these rituals and symbols within each religious tradition.
 - Analyze how these practices serve social functions within their communities. Consider aspects such as social cohesion, identity formation, and community support.
 - Discuss any similarities and differences you have observed between the two country/regions.
5. Critical Reflection:
 - Reflect on the role of sacred forms in contemporary society. How do the practices of these forms influence the lives of their followers and the broader society?
 - Consider the impact of globalization on the practices you have studied. How have these practices changed or adapted in response to global influences?
6. Writing the Paper:
 - Write a 5-7 page paper (double-spaced, 12-point font, APA format) presenting your findings and analysis.
 - Include an introduction that outlines the purpose of the assignment.
 - Provide detailed descriptions of the rituals, symbols, and social functions of the sacred forms in each country/region.
 - Use headings and subheadings to organize your paper.
 - Include a conclusion that summarizes your key findings and reflections.
7. Citations:
 - Cite all sources using APA format. Include a reference list at the end of your paper.

Submission: Submit your paper electronically via the course's online platform by [insert due date].

Assessment Criteria:

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Depth and accuracy of research • Quality of analysis and critical reflection • Clarity and organization of writing • Proper use of APA format for citations and references • Engagement with the assignment objectives and instructions This assignment aims to deepen your understanding of the diverse ways sacred forms shape and are shaped by social contexts. It encourages critical thinking and enhances your ability to analyze sacred practices from a sociological perspective.

Subject Prefix Guidelines

This policy establishes protocols for the vetting, approval and creation of subject prefixes for courses and disciplines maintained in the student information system, academic catalog and in student records. Course subject prefixes are proposed through the official curriculum change process.

Subject Prefix Approval

- Most commonly, new subject prefixes are proposed and created in conjunction with a new academic program.
- Course subject prefixes reflect a discipline or field of study, not the department in which the course is offered.
- Course subject prefixes are assigned to academic departments or disciplines, not schools or colleges, for purposes of review and reporting.
- When requesting a new subject prefix, the department should articulate the rationale for a new, unique prefix and why an existing subject prefix does not sufficiently represent the proposed curriculum.
- Course subject prefixes are not approved for the sole purpose of marketing or differentiation of offerings based on instruction mode, tuition, or location.
- Course subject prefixes are not approved on an experimental or interim basis. Rather, trial or temporary courses are offered under existing department or program course subject prefixes.
- Subject prefixes are not created for only one or two specialized courses within a broader discipline. Use the primary discipline subject code, when feasible, to facilitate class searches and readability of transcripts.
- Changes to existing subject prefixes may be proposed when academic programs or disciplines are approved for name changes and the existing prefixes are no longer relevant. Upon approval, active courses under the former subject prefix are recreated with the new subject prefix. Courses with the former subject prefix are inactivated and systematically linked to courses with the new subject prefix for purposes of repeatability, grade replacement, degree audit, etc.
- Departments should consult with the Office of the Registrar to determine the availability of a new subject prefix prior to submitting curriculum materials for approval.

Naming Conventions

- Subject prefixes are 2-4 alphabetical characters. No numbers or special characters are allowed.
- Subject prefixes do not begin with or include the type of academic organization (D for Department) or degree type (e.g., M for master's, B for bachelor's).
- Single Word Discipline Rules
 - A: Use the first 3-4 letters. (Astronomy = ASTR)

- B: If conflict exists, if the discipline is a compound word, use the first 1-3 letters of the first syllable and the first 1-3 letters of the second syllable.
- C: If conflict exists, try the first 2-3 letters and 1-2 additional letters to form a version of the word. (Japanese = JAPN)
- D: If conflict exists, consult with the Office of the Registrar.

- Dual Word Discipline Rules
 - A: Use the first two letters of each word. (Educational Sustainability = EDSU)
 - B: If conflict exists, use the first letter of the first word and first three letters of the second word. (Natural Resources = NRES)
 - C: If conflict exists, use the first two letters of each word. (Data Science = DS)
 - D: If conflict exists, consult with the Office of the Registrar.

- Three Word Discipline Rules
 - A: Use the first letter of each word. (Health Care Administration = HCA)
 - B: If conflict exists, use the first letter of each word and a second letter from one of the words. (Foreign Language Education = FLED)
 - C: If conflict exists, consult with the Office of the Registrar.

- Four or More Word Disciplines
 - A: Use the first letter of four words. (National Student Exchange Program = NSEP)
 - B: If conflict exists, consult with the Office of the Registrar.

If your native language is not English and you can document formal high school or university study of your native language, you may use ENGL 101 and ENGL 202, or ENGL 150 as a means of fulfilling this world language requirement. Please see the Department of World Languages and Literatures for details.

Provide a brief explanation of the need for this proposal and why it should be approved:

Social work practice in the field of addictions is growing. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, “employment of mental health and substance abuse social workers will grow as more people seek treatment for mental illness and for substance abuse, especially recovery from opioid use disorder. In addition, drug offenders are increasingly being directed to treatment programs, which are staffed by these social workers, as a supplement or occasionally an alternative to incarceration” (Social Workers : Occupational Outlook Handbook: : U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics). Since social workers in every area of practice require foundational understanding of substance use disorders, we propose to add SW 383 as a required course instead of an elective.

With the addition of our new Child Advocacy Studies Certificate, two new courses have been developed, SW 317 and SW 318. We would like these courses to count as electives for students in the social work major, regardless of whether they complete the certificate. We would also like to add SW 395 as an elective option, since with new faculty on board, it is likely that we will now be able to occasionally offer special topics courses.

Indicate the number of students enrolled in this program. Explain any expected changes in enrollment patterns.

There are currently about 250 social work majors. We do not anticipate changes in enrollment patterns to occur as a result of this change.

Indicate if this proposal is likely to result in students taking longer to graduate. (If so, explain alternatives considered.)

We do not anticipate the time to graduation to lengthen. Social work students have space in their schedules for additional major-specific coursework. In fact, many are already taking multiple social work electives, though they are only required to take one.

Describe the adequacy of the following resources available to the program. If any additional resources are required to support your proposal, please describe these and indicate plans for obtaining them:

Equipment:	Adequate
Facilities:	Adequate
Library Materials:	Adequate
Staff:	Adequate

Teacher Certified Programs only: What effect will this proposal have on Department of Public Instruction (DPI) Certification and or/accreditation requirements? (If any effect, the proposal must first be considered/approved by the Teacher Licensure Officer.)

Provide a brief explanation of the need for this proposal and why it should be approved:

Social work practice in the field of addictions is growing. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, “employment of mental health and substance abuse social workers will grow as more people seek treatment for mental illness and for substance abuse, especially recovery from opioid use disorder. In addition, drug offenders are increasingly being directed to treatment programs, which are staffed by these social workers, as a supplement or occasionally an alternative to incarceration” (Social Workers : Occupational Outlook Handbook: : U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics). Since social workers in every area of practice require foundational understanding of substance use disorders, we propose to add SW 383 as a required course instead of an elective.

With the addition of our new Child Advocacy Studies Certificate, two new courses have been developed, SW 317 and SW 318. We would like these courses to count as electives for students in the social work major, regardless of whether they complete the certificate. We would also like to add SW 395 as an elective option, since with new faculty on board, it is likely that we will now be able to occasionally offer special topics courses.

Indicate the number of students enrolled in this program. Explain any expected changes in enrollment patterns.

There are currently about 250 social work majors. We do not anticipate changes in enrollment patterns to occur as a result of this change.

Indicate if this proposal is likely to result in students taking longer to graduate. (If so, explain alternatives considered.)

We do not anticipate the time to graduation to lengthen. Social work students have space in their schedules for additional major-specific coursework. In fact, many are already taking multiple social work electives, though they are only required to take one.

Describe the adequacy of the following resources available to the program. If any additional resources are required to support your proposal, please describe these and indicate plans for obtaining them:

Equipment:	Adequate
Facilities:	Adequate
Library Materials:	Adequate
Staff:	Adequate

Teacher Certified Programs only: What effect will this proposal have on Department of Public Instruction (DPI) Certification and or/accreditation requirements? (If any effect, the proposal must first be considered/approved by the Teacher Licensure Officer.)

Electronic Record and Signature Disclosure

ELECTRONIC RECORD AND SIGNATURE DISCLOSURE

From time to time, UW-Stevens Point (we, us or Company) may be required by law to provide to you certain written notices or disclosures. Described below are the terms and conditions for providing to you such notices and disclosures electronically through the DocuSign system. Please read the information below carefully and thoroughly, and if you can access this information electronically to your satisfaction and agree to this Electronic Record and Signature Disclosure (ERSD), please confirm your agreement by selecting the check-box next to 'I agree to use electronic records and signatures' before clicking 'CONTINUE' within the DocuSign system.

Getting paper copies

At any time, you may request from us a paper copy of any record provided or made available electronically to you by us. You will have the ability to download and print documents we send to you through the DocuSign system during and immediately after the signing session and, if you elect to create a DocuSign account, you may access the documents for a limited period of time (usually 30 days) after such documents are first sent to you. After such time, if you wish for us to send you paper copies of any such documents from our office to you, you will be charged a $0.00 per-page fee. You may request delivery of such paper copies from us by following the procedure described below.

Withdrawing your consent

If you decide to receive notices and disclosures from us electronically, you may at any time change your mind and tell us that thereafter you want to receive required notices and disclosures only in paper format. How you must inform us of your decision to receive future notices and disclosure in paper format and withdraw your consent to receive notices and disclosures electronically is described below.

Consequences of changing your mind

If you elect to receive required notices and disclosures only in paper format, it will slow the speed at which we can complete certain steps in transactions with you and delivering services to you because we will need first to send the required notices or disclosures to you in paper format, and then wait until we receive back from you your acknowledgment of your receipt of such paper notices or disclosures. Further, you will no longer be able to use the DocuSign system to receive required notices and consents electronically from us or to sign electronically documents from us.

All notices and disclosures will be sent to you electronically

Unless you tell us otherwise in accordance with the procedures described herein, we will provide electronically to you through the DocuSign system all required notices, disclosures, authorizations, acknowledgements, and other documents that are required to be provided or made available to you during the course of our relationship with you. To reduce the chance of you inadvertently not receiving any notice or disclosure, we prefer to provide all of the required notices and disclosures to you by the same method and to the same address that you have given us. Thus, you can receive all the disclosures and notices electronically or in paper format through the paper mail delivery system. If you do not agree with this process, please let us know as described below. Please also see the paragraph immediately above that describes the consequences of your electing not to receive delivery of the notices and disclosures electronically from us.

How to contact UW-Stevens Point:

You may contact us to let us know of your changes as to how we may contact you electronically, to request paper copies of certain information from us, and to withdraw your prior consent to receive notices and disclosures electronically as follows:

To advise UW-Stevens Point of your new email address

To let us know of a change in your email address where we should send notices and disclosures electronically to you, you must send an email message to us at purchasing@uwsp.edu and in the body of such request you must state: your previous email address, your new email address. We do not require any other information from you to change your email address.

If you created a DocuSign account, you may update it with your new email address through your account preferences.

To request paper copies from UW-Stevens Point

To request delivery from us of paper copies of the notices and disclosures previously provided by us to you electronically, you must send us an email to jessica.potter@wisconsin.gov and in the body of such request you must state your email address, full name, mailing address, and telephone number. We will bill you for any fees at that time, if any.

To withdraw your consent with UW-Stevens Point

To inform us that you no longer wish to receive future notices and disclosures in electronic format you may:

i. decline to sign a document from within your signing session, and on the subsequent page, select the check-box indicating you wish to withdraw your consent, or you may;

ii. send us an email to dan.kramarz@wisconsin.gov and in the body of such request you must state your email, full name, mailing address, and telephone number. We do not need any other information from you to withdraw consent.. The consequences of your withdrawing consent for online documents will be that transactions may take a longer time to process..

Required hardware and software

The minimum system requirements for using the DocuSign system may change over time. The current system requirements are found here: <https://support.docusign.com/guides/signer-guide-signing-system-requirements>.

Acknowledging your access and consent to receive and sign documents electronically

To confirm to us that you can access this information electronically, which will be similar to other electronic notices and disclosures that we will provide to you, please confirm that you have read this ERSD, and (i) that you are able to print on paper or electronically save this ERSD for your future reference and access; or (ii) that you are able to email this ERSD to an email address where you will be able to print on paper or save it for your future reference and access. Further, if you consent to receiving notices and disclosures exclusively in electronic format as described herein, then select the check-box next to ‘I agree to use electronic records and signatures’ before clicking ‘CONTINUE’ within the DocuSign system.

By selecting the check-box next to ‘I agree to use electronic records and signatures’, you confirm that:

- You can access and read this Electronic Record and Signature Disclosure; and
- You can print on paper this Electronic Record and Signature Disclosure, or save or send this Electronic Record and Disclosure to a location where you can print it, for future reference and access; and
- Until or unless you notify UW-Stevens Point as described above, you consent to receive exclusively through electronic means all notices, disclosures, authorizations, acknowledgements, and other documents that are required to be provided or made available to you by UW-Stevens Point during the course of your relationship with UW-Stevens Point.

Rationale and need for this course (including any assessment evidence):
Dr. Shanny Luft (Associate Dean of General Education and Honors) and Dr. Dona Warren (the GEC representative for the "Critical Thinking" category) both agreed that there is a need for new courses in the CT category. There is no other similar Gen Ed course on campus. This course aligns well with themes two and three of the UWSP Strategic Plan, in that it expands the educational opportunities for student success and enhances the student experience. We anticipate that this course will be well enrolled because there seems to be a need for new courses in the CT category. The course has no prerequisites. The course has at least three crucial features: 1) For students who take only one or a few required science courses, the interdisciplinary nature of the study of life in the universe offers a broader understanding of a range of scientific research than can a course in any single discipline. 2) Public fascination with UFOs and alien visitation offers a unique opportunity to use life in the universe courses as vehicles for teaching about the nature of science and how to distinguish true science from pseudoscience. 3) The science of life in the universe considers many of the most profound questions we can ask, including: What is life? How did life begin on Earth? Are we alone? Could we colonize other planets or other star systems? Students are nearly always interested in these questions, making it easy to motivate even those students who study science only because it is required.

Course Learning Outcomes and Assessment – Upon completing this course, students will be able to:

LO1. Recognize critical thinking as a process of identifying, analyzing, evaluating, and constructing reasoning within the interdisciplinary framework of astrobiology to understand the nature of science and how to distinguish science from pseudoscience.

• The course will include in-class sessions dedicated to reading and discussions of articles and chapters of selected books. We will explore interdisciplinary topics from astronomy, physics, biology, cosmology, and planetary science engaging in qualitative and quantitative arguments, blending conceptual and mathematical reasoning.

L02. Identify, analyze, evaluate, and construct reasoning in 1) formulating a meaningful definition of life, 2) quantifying the likelihood of finding extraterrestrial life, 3) providing solutions to the Fermi paradox and its implications to our civilization, and 4) assessing the significance of the search for life beyond planet Earth.

- The course will include a variety of assessment tools: midterm and final exams, weekly homework assignments and quizzes. Problems will cover interdisciplinary topics from astronomy, physics, biology, cosmology, planetary science. They will include combinations of multiple-choice, qualitative and quantitative analyses, blending conceptual and mathematical reasoning.

L03. Communicate the analysis, evaluation, or construction of reasoning pertaining to some of the most profound questions humans can ask (e.g., What is life? How did life begin on Earth? Are we alone? Could we colonize other planets or other star systems?) orally, visually, or in writing.

- The course will include team-based projects and an individual term paper. The team-based projects will involve oral presentations supported by visual tools (e.g., graphs, data tables, illustrations, charts, videos). The term paper will be the final culminating written project, an individual essay on a selected big topic.

CRITICAL THINKING VALUE RUBRIC

for more information, please contact value@aacu.org

The VALUE rubrics were developed by teams of faculty experts representing colleges and universities across the United States through a process that examined many existing campus rubrics and related documents for each learning outcome and incorporated additional feedback from faculty. The rubrics articulate fundamental criteria for each learning outcome, with performance descriptors demonstrating progressively more sophisticated levels of attainment. The rubrics are intended for institutional-level use in evaluating and discussing student learning, not for grading. The core expectations articulated in all 15 of the VALUE rubrics can and should be translated into the language of individual campuses, disciplines, and even courses. The utility of the VALUE rubrics is to position learning at all undergraduate levels within a basic framework of expectations such that evidence of learning can be shared nationally through a common dialog and understanding of student success.

Definition

Critical thinking is a habit of mind characterized by the comprehensive exploration of issues, ideas, artifacts, and events before accepting or formulating an opinion or conclusion.

Framing Language

This rubric is designed to be transdisciplinary, reflecting the recognition that success in all disciplines requires habits of inquiry and analysis that share common attributes. Further, research suggests that successful critical thinkers from all disciplines increasingly need to be able to apply those habits in various and changing situations encountered in all walks of life.

This rubric is designed for use with many different types of assignments and the suggestions here are not an exhaustive list of possibilities. Critical thinking can be demonstrated in assignments that require students to complete analyses of text, data, or issues. Assignments that cut across presentation mode might be especially useful in some fields. If insight into the process components of critical thinking (e.g., how information sources were evaluated regardless of whether they were included in the product) is important, assignments focused on student reflection might be especially illuminating.

Glossary

The definitions that follow were developed to clarify terms and concepts used in this rubric only.

- Ambiguity: Information that may be interpreted in more than one way.
- Assumptions: Ideas, conditions, or beliefs (often implicit or unstated) that are "taken for granted or accepted as true without proof." (quoted from www.dictionary.reference.com/browse/assumptions)
- Context: The historical, ethical, political, cultural, environmental, or circumstantial settings or conditions that influence and complicate the consideration of any issues, ideas, artifacts, and events.
- Literal meaning: Interpretation of information exactly as stated. For example, "she was green with envy" would be interpreted to mean that her skin was green.
- Metaphor: Information that is (intended to be) interpreted in a non-literal way. For example, "she was green with envy" is intended to convey an intensity of emotion, not a skin color.

Definition

Critical thinking is a habit of mind characterized by the comprehensive exploration of issues, ideas, artifacts, and events before accepting or formulating an opinion or conclusion.

Evaluators are encouraged to assign a zero to any work sample or collection of work that does not meet benchmark (cell one) level performance.

Explanation of issues	Issue/ problem to be considered critically is stated clearly and described comprehensively; delivering all relevant information necessary for full understanding	Issue/ problem to be considered critically is stated, described, and clarified so that understanding is not seriously impeded by omissions.	Issue/ problem to be considered critically is stated but description leaves some terms undefined, ambiguities unexplored, boundaries undetermined, and/ or backgrounds unknown.	Issue/ problem to be considered critically is stated without clarification or description.
Evidence Selecting and using information to investigate a point of view or conclusion	Information is taken from source(s) with enough interpretation/ evaluation to develop a comprehensive analysis or synthesis. Viewpoints of experts are questioned thoroughly.	Information is taken from source(s) with enough interpretation/ evaluation to develop a coherent analysis or synthesis. Influence of context and assumptions	Thoroughly (systematically and methodically) analyzes own and others' assumptions and carefully evaluates the relevance of contexts when presenting a position.	Identifies own and others' assumptions and several relevant contexts when presenting a position.	Questions some assumptions. Identifies several relevant contexts when presenting a position. May be more aware of others' assumptions than one's own (or vice versa).	Shows an emerging awareness of present assumptions (sometimes labels assertions as assumptions). Begins to identify some contexts when presenting a position.
Student's position (perspective, thesis/hypothesis)	Specific position (perspective, thesis/hypothesis) is imaginative, taking into account the complexities of an issue. Conclusions and related outcomes (implications and consequences)	Conclusions and related outcomes (consequences and implications) are logical and reflect student's informed evaluation and ability to place evidence and perspectives discussed in priority order.	Conclusion is logically tied to a range of information, including opposing viewpoints; related outcomes (consequences and implications) are identified clearly.	Conclusion is logically tied to information (because information is chosen to fit the desired conclusion); some related outcomes (consequences and implications) are identified clearly.	Conclusion is inconsistently tied to some of the information discussed; related outcomes (consequences and implications) are oversimplified.

Term paper assignment

Astronomy 200 — Astrobiology - Life in the Universe

Due date: the last day of classes of the semester.

You are required to write a term paper for this class. The assignment is very general. Choose a topic that we have covered or mentioned in this class, do some further research to learn more about that topic, and write what you have learned. The goal of this assignment is for you to explore (further) some topic related to astrobiology and practice writing about science. Your term paper has a 20% contribution to your final course grade. I will utilize the attached rubric for evaluating and scoring your paper.

Paper length. I am looking for 5–10 pages (Times New Roman or Calibri 12 pts., double-spaced). I will not grade specifically on length: a short, tight, good paper is better than a long, unfocused paper. However, a short paper may not be as good as a longer, more thorough paper. Please proofread your papers. You are expected to have good spelling and grammar. Below are some paper topic suggestions. However, feel free to choose a topic that is not on this list, if it is relevant to astrobiology. Let your curiosity take over! Bear in mind that I am looking for you to move beyond the material we have covered in class. It is not sufficient to write only about things we have covered in class. Lastly, don't be afraid of being critical of things you read! Naturally, any source you refer to, you will cite in your paper. Additionally, you should be cautious with web resources and be skeptical. It is not okay to use only web resources; you must use some non-web resources. Visit the library. You are expected to utilize at least five different references. Please note that I do not want a book report. I want you to think---CRITICALLY! And learn!

Suggested Topics:

- 1) Looking for signs of intelligent life in astronomical data.
- 2) What conditions are necessary for life
- 3) Planetary atmospheres and habitability
- 4) Exploring the fundamental limits to life
- 5) Does life really need planets
- 6) Solutions to the Fermi paradox
- 7) Exploring Drake's equation

Course Rationale Please explain the rationale for including this course in the GEP. Address the following questions:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Has the Associate Dean of General Education and Honors and/or the GEC representative(s) for this category been consulted to see if there is a need for additional courses in this category? ▪ Is there a similar General Education course on campus that already exists? ▪ How does the course align with the new Strategic Plan (link)?

▪ How does the pedagogical approach support the proposed enrollment number?
Course Rationale: (see above)	Dr. Shanny Luft (Associate Dean of General Education and Honors) and Dr. Dona Warren (the GEC representative for the “Critical Thinking” category) both agreed that there is a need for new courses in the CT category. I will complete the “Critical Thinking” faculty training workshops by mid-March 2025. There is no other similar Gen Ed course on campus currently. This course aligns well with themes two and three of the UWSP Strategic Plan, in that it expands the educational opportunities for student success and enhances the student experience. We anticipate that this course will be well enrolled because there seems to be a need for new courses in the CT category. The course has no prerequisites. The course has at least three crucial features: 1) For students who take only one or a few required science courses, the interdisciplinary nature of the study of life in the universe offers a broader understanding of a range of scientific research than can a course in any single discipline. 2) Public fascination with UFOs and alien visitation offers a unique opportunity to use life in the universe courses as vehicles for teaching about the nature of science and how to distinguish true science from pseudoscience. 3) The science of life in the universe considers many of the most profound questions we can ask, including: What is life? How did life begin on Earth? Are we alone? Could we colonize other planets or other star systems? Students are nearly always interested in these questions, making it easy to motivate even those students who study science only because it is required.
Course Learning Outcomes:	LO1. Recognize critical thinking as a process of identifying, analyzing, evaluating, and constructing reasoning within the interdisciplinary framework of astrobiology to understand the nature of science and how to distinguish science from pseudoscience. LO2. Identify, analyze, evaluate, and construct reasoning in 1) formulating a meaningful definition of life, 2) quantifying the likelihood of finding extraterrestrial life, 3) providing solutions to the Fermi paradox and its implications to our civilization, and 4) assessing the significance of the search for life beyond planet Earth. LO3. Communicate the analysis, evaluation, or construction of reasoning pertaining to some of the most profound questions humans can ask (e.g., What is life? How did life begin on Earth? Are we alone? Could we colonize other planets or other star systems?) orally, visually, or in writing.
Explanation of Alignment for Category and Course Learning Outcomes Provide an explanation of how the GEP category learning outcomes align with the course learning outcomes	LO1 stated above aligns with the CT-Category Learning Outcome 1: Recognize critical thinking as a process of identifying, analyzing, evaluating, and constructing reasoning in deciding what conclusions to draw (argumentation) or actions to take (decision-making and problem-solving). • Students will utilize multiple perspectives and make connections across disciplines like astronomy, planetary science, and biology to think critically about the possibilities for extraterrestrial life. They will identify three hallmarks of modern science and employ them to distinguish between science and pseudo or non-science. Students will identify the challenges of interstellar travel and construct reasoning for or against the claim that aliens visit our planet.

(i.e., the relationship between each of the GEP LOs and what students learn in the course). (GEP outcomes can be found here)	LO2 stated above aligns with the CT-Category Learning Outcome 2: Identify, analyze, evaluate, and construct reasoning as it is applied to general or discipline-specific questions or issues. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students will describe the general history of the universe all the while gaining perspective on its scale of space and time. They will evaluate the assertion that humans are made of “star stuff”. Students will identify the chemical and environmental conditions that make Earth hospitable to life and summarize the evidence pertaining to the origin of life on our planet. They will discuss the theory of evolution and construct working definitions of life. They will formulate reasoning for or against the claim that water is a necessity for life, while evaluating the concept of habitable zones and the prospects for life both within and outside such a zone of a planetary system. Students will explore methods employed in the discovery and measurement of exoplanets, with an emphasis on strategies for searching and identifying bio- and/or techno signatures. They will describe the Fermi paradox and analyze the implications of its possible solutions to our civilization. LO3 stated above aligns with the CT-Category Learning Outcome 3: Communicate the analysis, evaluation, or construction of reasoning orally, visually, or in writing. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Students will critically evaluate numerical information to construct hypotheses that are supported by quantitative evidence. They will assess the relevance of observational and/or experimental data and its associated implications in a variety of contexts. Students will communicate ideas and associated interpretations using various formats: graphs, data tables, illustrations, charts, videos, and written reflections/essays, oral presentations, in-class activities, etc. They will engage in critical and conceptual thinking about the impact of discovering extraterrestrial life, within or outside the Solar System.
--	---

Student Learning Assessment: Explain how student learning assessments will measure attainment of each of the GEP category learning outcomes:	CT-Category Learning Outcome 1: Recognize critical thinking as a process of identifying, analyzing, evaluating, and constructing reasoning in deciding what conclusions to draw (argumentation) or actions to take (decision-making and problem-solving). <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The course will include in-class sessions dedicated to reading and discussions of articles and chapters of selected books. Hello Cindy,

We have just received the approval for the new course number/index from the Registrar's Office (see message below from the Associate Registrar Jonelle Przybylski).

Here I am attaching five pdf files for the next series of submission/vetting:

COURSE_FORM_ASTR200.pdf - this is the Request for Undergraduate and/or Graduate COURSES - it is the file that the Registrar reviewed.

Gep-application-form.pdf - this is the UWSP General Education Program (GEP) Course Application form

Along with the UWSP General Education Program (GEP) Course Application form I am also including the sample of the syllabus ASTRONOMY200_Syllabus.pdf, an example of assignment (Example_of_Assignment.pdf, which requires a rubric, too - CriticalThinking_Rubric_from_AACU.pdf).

I am grateful for your help. Please let me know if you have any questions.

I am adding Mark to this message, just to keep him updated on the timing and decisions of this process.

Sincerely,
Sebastian

Provide a brief explanation of the need for this proposal and why it should be approved:

Due to low enrollment in SFN, the decision was made to revise the dietetics major into a food and nutrition major with two options – dietetics and community nutrition. For dietetics, this is a reorganization of the major without curricular changes. For the ease of showing changes, we are striking all of the old layout and replacing with the new layout.

Indicate the number of students enrolled in this program. Explain any expected changes in enrollment patterns.

Based on fall 2024 enrollment, there were 69 students enrolled in the dietetics major. We anticipate similar enrollments in years to come.

Indicate if this proposal is likely to result in students taking longer to graduate. (If so, explain alternatives considered.)

None anticipated.

Provide a brief explanation of the need for this proposal and why it should be approved:

The Sustainable Food and Nutrition (SFN) major was suspended, deleted, and replaced by the Community Nutrition option under the new Food and Nutrition major. This decision was based on the low enrollment trend of the SFN major and growing interest in community nutrition from prospective students and their families, along with anticipated growth in community nutrition career opportunities.

We hope to gradually increase enrollment to 40 students over the next four years.

Provide a brief explanation of the need for this proposal and why it should be approved:

The Sustainable Food and Nutrition (SFN) major was suspended, deleted, and replaced by the Community Nutrition option under the new Food and Nutrition major. This decision was based on the low enrollment trend of the SFN major and growing interest in community nutrition from prospective students and their families, along with anticipated growth in community nutrition career opportunities.

Indicate the number of students enrolled in this program. Explain any expected changes in enrollment patterns.

We hope to gradually increase enrollment to 40 students over the next four years.

Indicate if this proposal is likely to result in students taking longer to graduate. (If so, explain alternatives considered.)

Good afternoon, Libby,

The Food and Nutrition program recently suspended admissions to the Sustainable Food and Nutrition (SFN) major beginning fall 2025 (see attachment).

We are creating a Food and Nutrition major with options in dietetics or community nutrition (renaming of SFN). There will be slight course changes within FN for the SFN degree, but dietetics will remain the same. We will be submitting curriculum change documents up the line soon.

Based on the major revisions form, I am requesting a listing of all catalog references and affected

PSYCH 300 as Stats Option

Hi Jasia and Deborah,

The School of Behavioral and Social Sciences support the inclusion of both PSYC 300 and SOC 351 as options for their students. We look forward to serving your students!

Subject: Food and nutrition curriculum to offer Psych 300 as stats option

Good morning, Craig,

We are updating our curriculum and submitting paperwork to change the course requirements for our food and nutrition majors-dietetics and sustainable food and nutrition. In the past, we have substituted Psych 300 when students had conflicts with Math 255. We propose changing our requirement so that students have the option of stats courses, including Psych 300, rather than a substitution. We anticipate less than 5 students enrolling in the course in any given semester. Please let us know if you support this change.

Thank you,
Jasia

Subject: FW: SFN major suspected

James,

The Food and Nutrition faculty met on Friday October 18th and voted 3-0-0 to suspend admissions to the SFN degree for fall 2025. This vote was supported by the School of Health Sciences and Wellness on 11/1/24 with a vote of 40-0-1. Dean Sommer also supports this decision, see her comment below. Todd suggested I email you so this item could be added to the next Curriculum Committee meeting agenda. We plan to submit the forms to discontinue the major after we finalize the plan for the current students. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thank you.

Sincerely,
Julia Fischer
