VII. Article of The Week: Inclusivity

Director Cronce introduced the Inclusivity Article of The Week to help educate herself and her committee members. She was informed that a term she used was problematic in a committee meeting so she apologized and educated herself. The Articles will continue into the next semester. The article was The complicated origin of the expression 'peanut gallery' by Roger J. Kreuz, the Associate Dean and Professor of Psychology at the University of Memphis.

VIII. Discussion

· Murals on Campus

Director Cronce shared what was discussed in hers and Senator Ashley's meeting with Vice Chancellor of Student Affairs Al Thompson. Al Thompson is in favor of having more murals or interactive art on campus; however, they need to make a presentation for University Marketing and the Chancellor to get their feedback and approval.

· College Pads Update

Director Cronce had a meeting last Thursday with Steven Broadway from College Pads. They discussed the Off Campus Housing Fair for this spring. The date is March 8, 2023 10am-2pm in the DUC Encore. The goal is to have associates from College Pads come and answer questions for students who want to live off campus.

· Cat Call Crawl Presentation

Director Cronce showed the committee the presentation for Director Hohn's event. The committee didn't have any questions and were in favor of the event.

· Teal Gala

Director Cronce explained what the Teal Gala is for Senator DeAngelis and Senator Erola. Director Cronce asked Senator Ashley if she would be interested in taking on any projects for the Teal Gala. She offered to help with setting up the day of.
